Book of the Month - August 2010

Guerrilla Diplomacy: Rethinking International Relations by Daryl Copeland

Lynne Rienner Publishers, 2009, $22.50, paperback, 320 pages.

Daryl Copeland charts the course for a new kind of diplomacy, one in tune with the demands of today's interconnected, technology driven world. Eschewing platitudes and broadly rethinking issues of security and development, Copeland provides the tools needed to frame and manage issues ranging from climate change to pandemic disease to asymmetrical conflict and weapons of mass destruction. The essential keystone of his approach is the modern diplomat, able to nimbly engage with a plethora of new international actors and happier mixing with the population than mingling with colleagues inside embassy walls. Through the lens of "Guerrilla Diplomacy", Copeland offers both a call to action and an alternative approach to understanding contemporary international relations. Copeland charts the course for a new kind of diplomacy, one in tune with the demands of today's interconnected, technology driven world.

Daryl Copeland is a Canadian analyst, author and educator who writes and speaks on international policy, global issues, diplomacy and public management. He is Adjunct Professor of International Studies and a Senior Fellow at the University of Toronto's Munk

Centre, and in 2009 was appointed as a Research Fellow at the University of Southern California's Center on Public Diplomacy.

Mr. Copeland will appear at AFSA (2101 E Street NW) on Monday, September 20 to discuss his book. The event takes place at 11 am. We welcome anyone who would like to attend, but do ask that you RSVP to events@afsa.org.
